Important Preparation Instructions

Question	Answer
What happens if I need to reschedule or cancel my move?	Contact us as soon as you can if your move dates have changed. Our staff can process any change to your move plan and help determine the best next steps. We will always do our best to accommodate your request! Your time is valuable, and so is ours. Requests for cancellation or rescheduling must be made at least 72 hours prior to your scheduled move. Requests received within 72 hours of a scheduled move will result in a forfeit of your deposit.
What documents need to be signed?	There are a few documents located in your customer portal that are required to be signed before your move. Documents include your estimate, contract, addendum and FAQs. Additional documentation may be requested if needed.
How do I submit my inventory?	In the customer portal, towards the right hand corner of the page, click on "Manage Inventory." From there, please use the link to add the rooms in your house and add the items you would like us to move in each room. Please make sure this information is accurate as possible. Photos of your inventory will also be requested to ensure there are no surprises on moving day. These photos can be emailed (extrahandspgh@gmail.com) or texted (412-498-5562). Please include your name and moving date in the subject line.
Why do I have to provide photos of the furniture items we are moving?	Furniture is made in so many different ways and materials. IKEA furniture is much easier to lift than that 200lbs solid oak dresser you have on the third floor of your house. This helps our movers and staff know the exactly what will be moved and better equip us to provide a smooth moving day, which saves you time, money, and frustration!
What materials are included with my move?	We will provide moving blankets, plastic wrap, and other moving equipment at no extra charge for customer who book movers and a truck with us. Unfortunately, with labor only services, we do not provide these items. Protection materials, straps, and other equipment must be provided by the customer for labor only services. Basic tools for disassembly and/or reassembly and dolly are included with all moving services.
What types of materials are included if I am scheduled for packing services?	We will provide a variety of different sized boxes, packing paper and tape based on your standard sized home. Materials are charged differently based on your type of move. If you do not have packing materials listed on your estimate, please reach out to one of our staff members for further information!
Do I need to be present for my move?	We would like all customers to be present for their move. This helps with making sure all items are taken from the origin - destination and placing items at the destination location. We do work with customers would can not be present. We need a point of contact that will be present and detailed instructions for the move.
Where will the moving truck park?	It is important to plan where our truck will park at each location. Not everywhere is going to have the most ideal parking situation (especially in Pittsburgh!). Some city locations may require us to park on a busy street or roadway. Please reach out and speak with a staff member if there are certain instructions we need to pass onto the moving crew. It is your responsibility to make sure we have somewhere to park that is close to your building/home! If you live in the city, you will need to request a parking permit from the Pittsburgh Parking Authority. Click here for more information!

How do you handle weather conditions such as snow and ice on moving day?

The safety of our team and your property is our top priority. If weather conditions, including snow or ice, are present on your moving day, we will take extra precautions to ensure a safe and efficient move. Please note that we recommend the client clear any walkways, driveways, or other areas where our movers will be working. If the conditions are unsafe or could potentially cause delays, we may need to reschedule the move for safety reasons. We encourage you to monitor the forecast and contact us if weather conditions change, so we can work together to adjust plans as needed.

How do the movers handle TVs and other electronics?

All TVs and fragile electronics must be boxed. We have the right to refuse transporting TVs and other electronics if not placed in a box. TVs and other electronics will not be covered under insurance if moved without appropriate protection. We have boxes and other materials for purchase or they can be obtained by a 3rd party. Materials must be ordered at least 48 hours before your scheduled move.

Can you dismount or remount my TV?

At this time, dismounting and remounting TVs is not a service we provide.

Do drawers, cabinets, and fridges need to be emptied?

All clothing, personal, small, or delicate items must be removed from drawers and cabinets (nightstands, end tables, dressers, etc.) to avoid lost or broken items. Fridges/freezers must be emptied out before our crew's arrival. The articles left inside your furniture pieces can add a lot of weight to them!

How do the movers protect lamps?

To ensure the safe transport of your lamps, we require the following:

- Table Lamps: Must be properly boxed before moving. If a table lamp is not boxed, we will still move it; however, it will not be covered under our damage protection policy. We recommend using a sturdy box with cushioning materials such as packing paper or bubble wrap.
- Floor Lamps: We can move floor lamps as long as all bulbs and shades are removed and boxed separately. The lamp base can be transported as is.
- Lamp Shades & Bulbs: All shades and bulbs must be packed in a box to prevent damage

Please note: If these items are not properly prepared as outlined above, our movers may refuse to transport them to ensure the safety of your belongings.

Am I required to give my movers a tip?

Is it appropriate to give a tip to movers who do a great job? Absolutely. Tipping during a move is not required, but if you're working with a professional moving team (like us!) and they make the moving process a little less stressful, acknowledging their efforts with a tip can be greatly appreciated.

We encourage you to read this article from Forbes which breaks down how much you should tip your movers.

What if I have pets?

We love pets as much as you do so it is important to have a plan in place before your move to keep them safe. Make sure you've lined up a pet sitter, move them prior to our arrival, or have them in a safe place like a crate or kennel. It is also helpful do a quick wipe down of all your furniture to remove pet hair, dander and dust for movers that may have allergies.

How do you protect my floors during the move?

We use floor runners in major doorways to help protect your floors during the move. If you require additional protection, we offer professional floor coverings for an additional charge. You also have the option to purchase your own floor protection, and we recommend Ram Board as a durable and effective solution. Let us know if you'd like to add our professional floor-covering service to your move!

What other ways can I prepare for my move?

There are many ways to prep for a safe and smooth moving experience! Check out this article on ways you can help!
